Summary of reasons for decision:

The publication is part of a series of computer moving image files involving the same two female participants who are at least older teenagers (potentially between the ages of 17 and 20 years old). This publication is an amateur attempt at sexual material, involving one of the female participants in a bedroom setting.

The Classification Office has considered the effects of the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990 on the application of all the classification criteria. The publication is classified objectionable except if the availability of the publication is restricted to persons who have attained the age of 18 years because of its explicit treatment of sex. The publication is intended for adult viewers and for the purpose of sexual titillation and arousal. Children and teenagers do not have the maturity necessary to properly contextualise this material as adult sexual fantasy. This could harmfully impact on their attitudes towards sex and sexual material and thus their sexual development. This is a reasonable and demonstrably justifiable restriction.
